
Harvey Bordowitz Music Lecture Series 2017

THE MAGICAL MUSICAL TOUR IS BACK!

Following the popular success of his first four lecture series at Netanya AACI, conductor and music lecturer Harvey Bordowitz invites you to join him for the fifth season, to learn while enjoying the thrill of great music. For more than three decades, Harvey Bordowitz has been esteemed as one of this country's most innovative and creative conductors and music directors, and has guest-conducted orchestras throughout the world. For 40 years he has lectured in both Hebrew and English on a vast range of musical topics, with humor, erudition and a deep love of music.

7.30pm Sunday 8 January

CHERCHEZ LA FEMME

Women's Night - entirely devoted to women, including heroines and villainesses, witches, murderers, monarchs and mothers, seductresses and abandoned women: Madam Butterfly, Delilah, Tosca, the Queen of Sheba and the Queen of the Night, Evita and My Yiddishe Momma.

7.30pm Sunday 22 January

TCHAIKOVSKY – TORMENTED SOUL

The towering Russian composer Tchaikovsky wrote immortal works in every musical genre - operas, symphonies, ballets, choral and chamber works. Ever tortured by his hidden homosexuality, even his death was a mystery. Swan Lake, Sleeping Beauty, Eugene Onegin and so much more, are his enduring legacy.

7.30pm Sunday 5 February

MYTHS, LEGENDS AND FOLKTALES

From Mount Olympus to the Black Forest, from Scheherazade to Hansel and Gretel, the stories which have formed the folk memory of entire peoples. Meet Sinbad, Orpheus, the Erl-King, and even Eliza Doolittle, in music by Schubert, Humperdinck, Weber, Offenbach, Mussorgsky and so many more.

7.30pm Sunday 19 February

COME BLOW YOUR HORN - WOODWINDS AND BRASS

Meat the instruments that take center-stage in the orchestra, and touch our souls - the soothing flute, the clarion trumpet, the silken clarinet and the soulful French horn. We will come to know these instruments both as soloists in great masterworks and in their place within the orchestra in the symphonic repertoire.

7.30pm Sunday 5 March

VIVA ESPAÑA!

Love and death under the blazing Spanish sun. Fiestas and flamenco, and the seductive sounds of the guitar. Hear Spanish music as written by native composers (Albeniz, Granados, De Falla and Rodrigo) and great foreign composers such as Bizet, Chabrier and Rimsky-Korsakov, who paid tribute to Spain's music and passion.
