Guest Lecturer

ODED REVIVI

8.00pm Sunday 4 November

Oded Revivi, Mayor of Efrat, is a statesman, orator, lawyer and prominent advocate for the Israeli communities in Judea and Samaria. His stance on Israeli settlements is clear: They are here to stay and any future peace agreement will have to take that reality into account. He is also a staunch advocate for co-existence and fostering improved relationships with Efrat's neighboring Palestinian villages.

Under his leadership the city of Efrat has grown by leaps and bounds which has necessitated the building of new schools and kindergartens, community centers and synagogues. An outspoken critic of Israel's security barrier, Oded was instrumental in having its route changed and has campaigned for its total removal, with the belief that Israel should be building bridges with its neighbors, not fences. In July 2016, Oded was appointed Chief Foreign Envoy of the YESHA Council, acting as the official political representative of the Israeli settlement movement to the international community. His role includes advocacy trips to the major seats of government worldwide as well as regular meetings with foreign diplomats and journalists based in Israel and abroad to explain the facts on the ground.

Program takes place at Netanya AACI, 28 Shmuel Hanaziv, Netanya.
