

The Syrian Patient

Film Screening followed by talk with film producer

GAL SCHWARTZ

7.30pm Thursday 20 September

This is the untold story of heroism under dire circumstances.

As the war in Syria wages on, wounded soldiers and civilians are secretly brought into Israel to be cared for. This film takes a look at the complex and moving relationships forged between former enemies as patients and doctors bond in a healing process. We follow the stories of a number of Syrians who wake up in an Israeli hospital. Where they would have once felt like they are in enemy-territory, they now recognize the humanity and hope possible. The film shows the humanity between Syrians and Israelis from a different perspective: former enemies become partners in the struggle for life. After our screening we will be joined by Gal Schwartz who produced the film. He will tell us about how they made the film, behind the scene issues and answer questions.

The film has English subtitles.
